

It was teachers vs. students at this basketball game

St. Edmund Preparatory High School recently held its annual senior-faculty basketball game under the direction of Physical Education teacher Ms. K. McEvoy.

Ms. McEvoy stated that she “couldn’t have done this without the help of everyone on the court! The play-by-play announcing was hilarious and the crazy court antics by Girardin Mondesir and Señor Lisboa made everyone laugh.”

Even though the seniors easily won by 14, the faculty stayed in the game until the end. The final score was 68-54.

St. Edmund Prep is located at 2474 Ocean Avenue.
