

St. Edmund Preparatory High School's "Eagles on Tour" recently expanded its wings to Park Slope. Deacon Ron Rizzuto, Director of Admissions, the Edmund Eagle mascot and three students who graduated from St. Francis Xavier School visited the school to talk to the current eighth grade class. The students spoke about their experiences in high school and informed them what they need to do to get into the local high schools. The students spoke about not only their academic experience but also the extracurricular activities at the Prep.

St. Francis Xavier eighth graders were given an opportunity to ask questions about high school life. Students wanted to know more about sports, clubs, and retreats but the most popular question was do you get a lot of homework?

Even the Eagle, David Louison, who is a senior at St. Edmund, spoke about his rigorous academic classes in the International Baccalaureate program and his involvement on the basketball team. Louison stated that he believes, "St. Edmund Prep has prepared him to move on to college to pursue his career as a lawyer."

To be added to the tour schedule call 718-743-6100 extension 42. St. Edmund Preparatory High School is located in Sheepshead Bay .

Photo: David Louison as the Eagle, Deacon Ron Rizzuto, St. Edmund students Kianna Beckles, Brianna Watson, Kevin Casias with students 8th graders.