

St. Edmund Prep 'Sock-t-ober'

This year Student Council members and Campus Ministry is sponsoring 'Sock-t-ober' under the direction of Sister Barbara Doyle, CSJ. Students collected new socks for the homeless of our city. The socks will be donated to 'Chips' Food Kitchen on 4th Avenue in Brooklyn. The donation of new, warm socks will be a blessing for the homeless. The collection took place during the whole month of October.

The students also sponsored a homeroom contest of who can make the best Jack-o-lantern. Every homeroom came up with a creative theme for their pumpkin. Some themes were scary while others were based on reality shows and movies. Pumpkins were decorated using wigs, glasses, paint and flashlights. First place Marie Geraci's (12th grade) was scary. Second place Mr. Fama's (10th grade) was creative and third place Jennifer McGowan's (11th grade) looked very similar to TV's reality show character Snooki.
